"VIRGINIA LEE" ON TRIAL RUN

New Pennsylvania Ferry Due Here Oct. 18; Carries 46 Autos

Cape Charles, Va., Sept. 29.—Captain Alfonze Sadler and Chief Engineer W. S. Chandler, of the Pennsylvania Railroad ferry here, went to Quincy, Mass., to take charge of the pilot house and engine room of the company's new steamer, "Virginia Lee," during the trial run and test made this week from the Fore River shipyard.

The new steamer will leave Boston on October 16 and is scheduled to arrive at Norfolk on October 18 and will be immediately placed in service between Cape Charles, Old Point and Norfolk.

The new passenger steamer has a length of 300 feet and a 50-foot beam, developes 2,4000-h.p., and can maintain a speed of 18 miles per hour. There are accommodations for 1,200 passengers and 46 automobiles. The dining room seats 72 persons.

Capt. Ryland A. Bull, of the ferry department, has been promoted to passenger captain to succeed Captain Sadler and is now on the regular passenger boat run between Norfolk and Cape Charles.
